Dental Cleaning

Many times during an examination we find that dogs and cats can have teeth that are rotten, abscessed, or broken. If left in the mouth, these teeth can not only be painful but can cause dental complications in the future. For these reasons it is our recommendation to have any "bad teeth" removed during today's dental cleaning.

Because your pet will be under anesthesia during the procedure, there will not be time for us to stop and call you in the event that we find teeth that need to be extracted. Please let us know now if we have your permission to extract "bad teeth".

Prices: Basic tooth extraction - $14.47

Complex tooth extraction - $46.38 +/- soft tissue surgery ($5.00-$36.92 each)
